SOUTHEAST LLAMA RESCUE, INC

FOSTER AGREEMENT

1. PURPOSE AND OWNERSHIP

This agreement is between Southeast Llama Rescue, Inc. ("SELR") and the foster home or facility named in Schedule A ("you" or "Foster Home"). You're agreeing to give the llamas, alpacas, or other camelids listed in Schedule A (the "Animals") safe, humane, temporary care while SELR finds each one a permanent placement.

SELR owns the Animals throughout the foster period. Fostering, including foster-to-adopt, never transfers ownership. That happens only through a separate written adoption agreement that meets SELR's adoption requirements.

You may not tell anyone you own an Animal. You also may not sell, lease, trade, give away, transfer, surrender, abandon, breed, or otherwise dispose of an Animal unless SELR approves in writing.

2. ANIMALS COVERED

Schedule A is part of this agreement. For each Animal, it lists the name and SELR number, plus species, sex, birth date or approximate age, color or wool type, registration number, and breeding status when available. Animal-specific medical, behavioral, feeding, housing, or handling instructions can go in Schedule A or in a written addendum.

3. APPROVAL AND CHANGES

You must complete SELR's foster application process before placement, including a facility inspection or farm check if SELR requires one. Tell SELR promptly if anything changes with your facilities, household, herd, or ability to provide care that could affect an Animal's welfare.

4. DAILY CARE, HOUSING, AND BREEDING

Please provide the following at all times:

- Adequate feed and clean, fresh water.
- Safe fencing, shelter, pasture, and handling facilities suitable for camelids.
- Humane handling, and protection from predators, hazards, and foreseeable weather extremes.
- Regular observation and herd-health monitoring, with prompt attention to illness, injury, lameness, significant weight loss, poor body condition, or other serious health concerns.
- Veterinary care, vaccinations, and parasite monitoring and control suited to the Animal, your location, and your veterinarian's recommendations.
- Care that follows reasonable instructions from SELR or the Animal's veterinarian.

SAMPLE

You must never abandon, neglect, intentionally harm, or withhold necessary care from an Animal.

Llamas and alpacas are herd animals, so don't keep one alone unless SELR approves in writing or a licensed veterinarian directs temporary medical isolation.

Foster Animals must not be bred. Keep females away from intact males, and securely separate intact males from intact females. Failing to take reasonable steps to prevent unauthorized breeding is a material breach and may end the placement and require the Animals' return. If an Animal becomes pregnant, tell SELR promptly so we can make a plan.

5. VETERINARY CARE AND EMERGENCIES

Tell SELR promptly about significant illness, injury, lameness, substantial weight loss, serious behavior changes, or any other major health concern, including a significant change in an Animal's prognosis.

In an emergency, get the veterinary care the Animal reasonably needs without waiting for SELR's approval whenever a delay would put the Animal's life or welfare at risk. Let SELR know as soon as you can. For non-emergency treatment, get advance approval from an authorized SELR representative when Section 6 or SELR's reimbursement procedures require it.

If a cria is born in foster care

- The same veterinary-care requirements apply to the cria.
- The cria belongs to SELR, and you have adoption priority under Section 10.
- SELR pays extraordinary medical expenses, subject to the approval and reimbursement procedures in Section 6.
- SELR will create a separate Schedule A and assign the cria its own SELR number.

6. EXPENSES

What SELR pays

Subject to its approval and reimbursement procedures, SELR pays approved emergency medical expenses and any other medical expenses it authorizes in advance, such as veterinary services, diagnostic testing, special feed, medications, and parasite treatment.

- When feasible, SELR will deworm Animals before transport. If it can't, SELR pays approved costs for fecal testing and initial parasite treatment.
- SELR pays for vaccines that are overdue when an Animal arrives, vaccines SELR requires for adoption, and non-routine vaccines a veterinarian recommends (such as rabies).
- If resistant parasites or other special circumstances call for more treatment, you and the SELR Coordinator will agree on a treatment plan. SELR pays approved costs needed to bring the Animal to an acceptable level of health for adoption or other placement.

SAMPLE

What you pay

You cover ordinary foster-care costs: regular feed, hay, minerals, routine vaccines (such as CDT and M-worm protocols), routine deworming after the initial treatment, and other everyday husbandry supplies. SELR doesn't pay boarding fees. Your contribution is providing a safe haven and routine care while SELR works on permanent placement.

Approvals and reimbursement

Get advance approval from an authorized SELR representative before any non-emergency expense over $100 in a single transaction, unless SELR has already expressly authorized it. Send SELR a monthly accounting of any expenses you want reimbursed, and provide receipts or other documentation if SELR asks.

7. TRANSPORTATION AND RELOCATION

Coordinate all transportation to or from your facility with SELR. Don't move an Animal outside the area SELR has approved, take it to another facility, or arrange a permanent placement with anyone else without SELR's written approval. Transportation costs are reimbursable only if approved in advance, unless an emergency makes that impractical.

8. UPDATES, VISITS, AND RECORDS

When SELR reasonably asks, send welfare updates, photos, veterinary information, and care records. If SELR has a reasonable welfare concern, cooperate with a site visit scheduled at a mutually reasonable time.

To the extent the law allows, you authorize SELR to talk with veterinarians, veterinary hospitals, caregivers, boarding facilities, shearers, and anyone else with information materially related to an Animal's care, and you authorize your veterinarians to release relevant records to SELR.

9. DEATH OR EUTHANASIA

Tell SELR within 24 hours if an Animal dies or is euthanized, or as soon as reasonably possible if that isn't feasible. When you have it, include the date, the attending veterinarian, and the known or suspected cause. If practical, check with SELR about whether to have a necropsy done. SELR pays the approved cost of any necropsy it authorizes.

10. FOSTER-TO-ADOPT AND ADOPTION PRIORITY

If Schedule A marks the placement as foster-to-adopt, you may evaluate the Animals for adoption during the evaluation period SELR sets. Unless we agree otherwise in writing, SELR won't actively advertise those Animals for another placement during that period. Please tell SELR by the decision date whether you want to adopt.

SAMPLE

A Foster Home in good standing that has followed this agreement gets the first chance to request adoption of an Animal it is fostering, subject to SELR's normal adoption requirements and approval. Foster-to-adopt status and adoption priority do not transfer ownership.

11. FOSTER PERIOD, RETURN, AND BREACH

The foster period is the one listed in Schedule A. If no end date is listed, the placement continues until it is terminated under this agreement. You may end the placement at any time by notifying SELR and helping with the Animal's return.

SELR may end the placement when it is reasonably necessary to protect an Animal's welfare, when your circumstances materially change or your facilities are no longer suitable, or when you materially breach this agreement. Examples include neglect, abuse, inadequate care, unsafe housing, unauthorized breeding, or unauthorized transfer.

You must return the Animals to SELR, or to a placement SELR designates, when the foster period ends, when the placement is terminated, or when you can't or no longer wish to keep fostering. SELR will coordinate the transportation, and unless we agree otherwise in writing, SELR decides who pays for it based on the circumstances.

Please cooperate with any lawful recovery effort, and don't conceal, sell, transfer, relocate, or otherwise interfere with SELR's recovery of an Animal. This agreement does not allow SELR or its representatives to enter private property or use physical force without lawful authority. SELR may pursue voluntary surrender and other lawful contractual, administrative, or judicial remedies.

A material breach may lead to a written demand to fix the problem, termination of the placement, return or recovery of the Animals, loss of foster privileges, or other lawful remedies. SELR may also seek immediate lawful relief when needed to protect an Animal.

12. RISK, INDEMNIFICATION, AND LIABILITY

Llamas, alpacas, and other camelids are large animals that can cause injury, death, or property damage. You accept the inherent risks of possessing, handling, transporting, and caring for the Animals during the foster period.

To the fullest extent the law allows, you will defend, indemnify, and hold harmless SELR and its directors, officers, employees, agents, volunteers, and authorized representatives from third-party claims, damages, losses, liabilities, costs, and reasonable expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) arising from your possession, handling, transportation, management, or control of an Animal during the foster period. This does not apply to the extent the claim results from the negligence or intentional misconduct of the person seeking indemnification.

Also to the fullest extent the law allows, SELR isn't responsible for injuries, damages, losses, veterinary or transportation expenses, or other costs arising from an Animal's condition or conduct during the foster period. Nothing in this agreement waives or limits any right, remedy, or liability that can't legally be waived or limited.

13. GENERAL TERMS

Governing law. This agreement is governed by the laws of the state SELR designates for the placement, except that laws on animal welfare, ownership, possession, transportation, and other matters that can't be changed by contract still apply.

Entire agreement and changes. This agreement, Schedule A, and any written addenda it expressly incorporates are our entire agreement on the foster placement and replace any earlier agreements on the same subject. Any change or waiver must be in writing and approved by an authorized SELR representative. If it materially affects your obligations, you must acknowledge it too.

Severability. If any provision is found invalid or unenforceable, it will be enforced as far as the law allows, and the rest of the agreement stays in effect.

Electronic signatures. To the extent the law allows, we may sign electronically and in separate copies. Each signed copy counts as an original, and together they make one agreement.

14. ACKNOWLEDGMENT

By signing Schedule A, you confirm that you have read and understand this agreement, have had the chance to ask questions, understand that SELR owns the Animals, accept responsibility for their care during the foster period, and agree to follow this agreement's terms.
